Detailed Action

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

3. Claims 5 and 6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Bacchi, et al, in view of the collective teachings in Uehara, et al. and Poduje, et al.

Note Bacchi contains a first spindle 80; a second spindle 60; first rotation transfer means 58, 68 and the pulley attached to the lower end of 60; a second arm 22; a third spindle 86; second rotation transfer means 66, 90 and the outer surface of 86.

Uehara teaches a rotatable base 4 and first motor 10 inside a body portion 3 to provide a theta drive.

Poduje teaches using a theta drive for a single arm.

Art Unit: 3652

It would have been obvious to provide a rotatable base and first motor inside a body portion in Bacchi similar to that in Uehara in view of the teaching in Poduje to provide a single arm with a theta drive. Note the radial axis and theta axis in each of Uehara and Poduje are co-axial.

Regarding claim 6, the algorithm set forth in this claim would be inherent in the arm movement in Bacchi since Bacchi's hand moves along a straight line parallel to a line through the pivoted center. See Bacchi, figure 6A.

4. Applicants' arguments have been carefully considered but are not deemed persuasive since they are directed to a newly added limitation treated in the above rejection.

5. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
